SHS Marching Black Knights on the Web

StoughtonBands.org

Beginning this year, we will be gradually phasing out StoughtonBands.org. The announcements that used to appear on this website will move to StoughtonFineArts.org and the resources and materials (drill/coordinate sheets, music parts) will move to the Marching Band Google Classroom.

Marching Band Google Classroom

Join the Marching Band Google Classroom using Class Code: jqzhu4w

Student instrument parts, scores, and MIDI audio previews for the show for all brass/woodwind players is now available on the Google Classroom! Drill charts and coordinate sheets will be posted soon, along with videos of all the drill moves.

The Official SHS Bands Twitter Feed

If you have a Twitter account, make sure you follow Mr. Mange @MrMangeMusic! Twitter is the first place to look for time-sensitive announcements throughout the marching band season as well as general information about upcoming events.

Learn to March ("LTM") Camp this Friday!

Is this your first year marching in Stoughton? If you've never marched before, make sure to attend our short "pre-Band Camp" evening on Friday, August 13th, 5:30-8:30pm at the OMS upper parking lot! We'll go over all of the basic marching commands and discuss everything you need to know to start off "on the right foot" (which, as you'll learn at LTM, is actually the left foot!).

All first-time marchers should attend Learn to March. If you have a conflict, please contact Mr. Mange (j_mange@stoughtonschools.org) or Mrs. Fiske (a_fiske@stoughtonschools.org) as soon as possible.
